bartholomewswims
a dance for a city pool and its people featuring City of Austin lifeguards, Aquatics maintenance staff and neighborhood residents

JULY 21, 22, 28, 29 2017
Dear Audience Member,

Welcome to Bartholomew Swims, a dance for a city pool and its people—including you.

In Austin’s public pools, we have seen much to be inspired by. The lifeguards, many of whom are young people in their first jobs, face the daily challenge of saving lives. The management and supervisors of the Aquatics Division are a dedicated and committed group, working long hours to keep the pools operating safely. The maintenance staff has also been our muse—with their remarkable care and knowledge of our pool system. Finally, a key inspiration has been you—the people who use and love our city pools.

Bartholomew Swims is the first of three dances about East Austin pools and the premier performance for My Park, My Pool, My City—a three year residency for Forklift Danceworks with Austin Aquatics. Conceived with the Parks and Recreation Department to address the complex issues confronting Austin’s aquatic systems, My Park, My Pool, My City is using arts-based engagement and collaborative performances to foster dialogue between pool users, community stakeholders, and PARD staff in three different East Austin neighborhoods.

Public swimming pools are vital community gathering places where people of all backgrounds can come together and enjoy being in the water. We hope you enjoy tonight’s performance and that we will keep seeing you at the pool.

Allison Orr, Artistic Director
Allison founded Forklift Danceworks in 2001. Defying easy description, her dances seek to uncover that which is essential to the life of a community but often goes unnoticed. Named Best Choreographer of 2016 by The Austin Chronicle and of 2003, 2008 and 2013 by the Austin Critics Table, Allison was the 2015-16 Distinguished Visiting Scholar in the College of the Environment at Wesleyan University where she directed The Artist in the City—a hands on course in her community-based dance making practice.

Krissie Marty, Director and Choreographer
Krissie created and directed RE Source and co-directed PowerUP!, Play Ball Downs Field, Afoot: A Marching Band Extravaganza, and The Trees of Govalle with Forklift Danceworks. In her role as Forklift’s Director of Education, Krissie leads the Leaps & Bounds and Learning in Motion programs. Her choreography has been performed at the Kennedy Center, Stratford Circus in London, Chateau de Cazals in France, PS122 and Jacob’s Pillow Dance Festival.

Stephen Pruitt, Production and Lighting Designer
Stephen has been working in all forms of live theater, performance and photography for over twenty years. He is the resident production designer for Forklift Danceworks, Kathy Dunn Hamrick Dance, Tapestry Dance Company, a company member with the Rude Mechanicals, and works with countless other artists. His design and photographic work can be seen at fluxiondesigns.com

Graham Reynolds, Composer
Graham has been called “the quintessential modern composer” by the London Independent. Graham creates, performs, and records music for film, theater, dance, rock clubs and concert halls with collaborators ranging from Richard Linklater and Jack Black to DJ Spooky and Ballet Austin. This is his ninth project with Forklift Danceworks. In 2016, Graham received the Creative Capital Award for his opera, “Pancho Villa From a Safe Distance”. He recently released a twelve album set on Innova Recordings. More at grahamreynolds.com
PERFORMERS FROM AQUATICS MAINTENANCE

Juan Hernandez was born on the East side of Austin and grew up swimming at Martin Pool. He has been with Aquatics almost 10 years, and he and his wife have three daughters and three stepsons. When he’s not on the job he likes hanging out with friends, barbecuing, and fishing.

Paul Slutes is the Aquatics Maintenance Supervisor. He started swimming as a baby with his dad at Northwest Pool, where at age 13 he became a Pool Attendant. At 17, he became the Pool Manager of Bartholomew and at 18 Seasonal District Supervisor of East Central Austin. He has worked with maintenance for over 10 years and has served on the Aquatics Citizen’s Advisory Board. He volunteers as a Cub Master with the Boy Scouts, avidly follows F1 car races, and spends time with his wife Monica and their two kids, Christopher and Tristan.

Jonathan “Tap” Tapscott was born in Houston but has lived in Austin since he was 13. He grew up around pools in both cities, and his father Jonathan taught thousands of children to swim in Houston’s 5th ward. When he was 21, he started mixing chemicals with Aquatics and has been working for the department ever since. He has been married to his wife Yvonne for 28 years and together they have two daughters.

LIFEGUARD PERFORMERS

Ivan Acosta was raised in Austin, yet remains grounded to his roots in Mexico. Just back from a year in London studying film, Ivan aims to help people enjoy life and to inspire them to be their best selves.

David Arbuckle has been a lifeguard for 11 years, and this is his fourth season with Austin Aquatics. This year he coached the Reed Swim Team for a second season and is currently training to swim in the Lake Travis relay for a second consecutive year. In his free time he likes to play chess, stargaze, and nap with his two cats.
Caleb Betts began swimming competitively at a young age. When he moved to Austin last summer from Jacksonville, Florida, it felt logical that he would lifeguard. Caleb attends McCallum High School where he studies piano.

Abi Castillo is a lifeguard at Bartholomew Pool and is in her third season of lifeguarding. She attends Stony Point High School and enjoys swimming and running. She grew up in Round Rock, South Austin, and Elgin, TX.

Amanda Cavazos Weems is the recreation program instructor in the Centralized Programs Division of PARD and previously worked at Bartholomew Pool. Born and raised in Austin, Amanda swam competitively from age 7-18, and began lifeguarding at Garrison Pool at age 15. As a community organizer, she advocated for temporary aquatics employees to receive the same living wage as their full time coworkers through AFSCME local 1624. She chairs the Young Active Labor Leaders (YALL) in Austin, and is currently organizing against SB4 and advocating for affordable, accessible healthcare for all.

Alex Cedillo is a year-round lifeguard for the city and began lifeguarding at Bartholomew in 2014. Her favorite aspect of lifeguarding is teaching swim lessons. She likes observing the kids develop skills rapidly and watching them grow in the seasons following graduating from her class. When not at the pool, Alex enjoys studying ceramics and sculpture.

Caitlin Cooper grew up in St. Louis, MO, where she began swimming competitively at a young age. She then went on to swim for Millikin University in Illinois and majored in recreation administration. With eleven seasons of lifeguarding, Caitlin is currently a North-Central Supervisor for the Aquatics Division.

George Covarrubias has lived in Austin most of his life. He goes to LBJ high school and likes to play soccer in his free time. His favorite part of lifeguarding is the chance to save lives.

Many thanks to IBC BANK for sponsoring this performance & My Park, My Pool, My City!

Staria Dilek recently began her first summer lifeguarding at Bartholomew Pool. She has always loved swimming and while growing up in Austin frequented the swimming holes on the Greenbelt. A student at McCallum High School, Staria also has an interest in musical theater.

Marcus Fowler grew up in Austin and this is his fourth season with Aquatics. He usually works as Head Guard at Murchison, and in his free time he enjoys playing basketball and video games.

Rafael Garcia Gil is a recent graduate of Reagan High School and the SwimATX program. Born and raised in Austin, Rafael considers himself a simple man with few worries. This is his first season lifeguarding.

Maya Kidd hails from Austin and is in her 4th season of lifeguarding. She is a student at Marist College in New York where she is a tour guide and “ambassador” for the school. This fall she’ll be studying in Florence.

Avery Mitchell is the head lifeguard manager for Austin’s North Central District and has worked for Austin Aquatics for the past three summers. He used to swim for the Brentwood Bluefish and currently volunteers for an excursion railroad on the weekends. He is 18 years old and will begin training to become a firefighter next year.

Lena Lockwood is an experienced lifeguard and swimmer who grew up in San Antonio swimming competitively. She continued her career as a swimmer for the University of Texas at Austin. Now in her twelfth season lifeguarding, Lena is the Seasonal Supervisor for the North-Central district of the Aquatics department. Outside of swimming, Lena is an avid participant in Roller Derby and is the jammer for her team, the “New Braunfels Wurst Girls.”

Mario Navarrete was born in Mexico City, but raised largely in Austin. This is his first season with Aquatics and he especially enjoys teaching swim lessons to children. Mario is also a practitioner of Yangtze water therapy, which uses supported floating in water as a method to overcome trauma or to relax emotionally.
Adrian Ortega is the Recreation Program Specialist for Aquatics. Adrian began swimming competitively at age nine, and went on to be a Texas high school state champion, swimming for LBJ High School. His career continued into college where he swam for The University of the Incarnate Word. Adrian has worked full time for the city just over three years, and his job includes acting as head swim coach for Austin swim teams and for SwimATX.

Anaires Rizo is a student at Reagan High School where she completed the SwimATX program. She improved her swimming skills, completed her lifeguard certification and just started her first season of lifeguarding. Anaires likes spending time with her 2 year old daughter.

Spring Smith is a recent graduate of Anderson High School and will attend Rhodes College in the fall. This is Spring’s second season lifeguarding. Out of the pool, Spring plays sand volleyball competitively and frequently goes to Zilker Park to play ultimate frisbee.

Lily Yepez is a student at the Ann Richards School. In her third year of lifeguarding, Lily began her swim career as a young swimmer for the Patterson Piranha’s swim team. At school she is a drum major for the marching band and performs in the concert band.

Jake has worked in several capacities at the award-winning American Repertory Theater (ART) in Cambridge, MA, including as a production assistant on the NYC-bound productions of Natasha, Pierre, & The Great Comet of 1812 and Nice Fish. He has also directed several productions at the ART's second stage, Club OBERON.
ABOUT FORKLIFT DANCEWORKS

Forklift Danceworks creates dances by, for, with, and about communities through its mission to activate communities through a collaborative creative process. Our dances show the skilled movement and tell the often unheard stories of the people whose work sustains our daily lives. Through our performances, we seek to create opportunities for civic dialogue, deeper understanding, and greater connection. Since 2001, we have directed over 25 distinct community-based projects, including the employees of five City of Austin departments. Our community partners have included Austin's African American Cultural Heritage District, Huston-Tillotson University, and the Rosewood and Govalle-Johnston Terrace Neighborhood Associations. Our work has been presented by the International Community Arts Festival, Kyoto Arts Center, the City of Venice, Italy, the Kennedy Center, Wesleyan University/Center for the Arts, Fusebox Festival and the Mitchell Center of Houston. The Trash Project, Forklift’s collaboration with Austin sanitation workers, is the subject of a documentary film, Trash Dance, which won numerous audience awards at national film festivals and has been screened internationally through US State Department programs.
